About the Day

Prepare for Holy Week with us as we turn away from the hustle and bustle of daily life and spend several hours examining the final days and hours of Jesus' life. The focal point of our exploration will be A Meditation on the Stations of the Cross, a 14 x 6' artwork by Eileen Kennedy that will be installed in our large chapel. In 2003, the artist took a leap of faith and stepped away from a busy exhibition schedule to commit to this large work. When she embarked on this journey, little did she know that it would take five years. Eileen will share the artistic and spiritual challenges she encountered as she worked to incorporate all 14 stations of the cross into a single artwork. We will then break to attend the Noonday Service and have lunch. When we reconvene, Eileen will give a brief, informative presentation about the history of the Stations of the Cross and how other artists have interpreted them. We'll close the day by praying the Stations outdoors on our grounds.

About the Artist

A graduate of Pratt Institute, Kennedy also studied at the Art Students League of New York and the Hartford Art School. For the past 35 years she has exhibited widely in the mid-Atlantic region. She is a past recipient of a New Jersey State Council on the Arts Fellowship among other awards. Her current practice focuses on narrative drawings and paintings executed in silverpoint and egg tempera. The artist lives and works in Red Bank, NJ. She is a member of St. John's Episcopal Church in Little Silver, NJ and is an Associate of the Community of St. John Baptist. When not working in her studio, she can be heard playing mandolin in the Celtic band, the Kilkenny Cats.
